Ready World Cup At Squaw

With Squaw Valley World Cup races starting on February 27, less than two weeks away, an army of snow vehicles, skiers and bootpackers will be pressed into service to pack the Slalom and Downhill courses.

Recent record California storms have dumped over 25 feet of new snow on the upper levels of Squaw Peak and famous KT-22 – the mountains on which the races are to be held. Snow continues to fall most of the time at an average rate of two feet a day.

One – hundred – twenty – five racers from eight countries will compete in the World Cup series, which will be televised nationally on ABC/TV on Saturday, March 1. The first race – the Men's Downhill, the only World Cup Downhill in North America this year – will be run on Thursday, February 27, on the same downhill course as used in the 1960 Squaw Valley Winter Olympic Games, starting on Squaw Peak above Siberia Bowl.

The Ladies' Downhill, to be run on Friday, February 28, will start from the cornice of the East Face of KT-22, the same course as the 1960 Ladies' Olympic Downhill.

Dick Dorworth, a holder of the former world's ski speed record of 106 mph, will be chief-of-course for the Squaw Valley World Cup races. He says that "course preparation has been made extremely difficult by the recent constant heavy snowfalls, but we have every confidence that courses will be in shape in time."

Karl Schrantz of Austria is currently leading in World Cup points based on his showings in the races of the World Cup series now being held in Europe. Austria is ahead in over-all points to date, followed by France and the U.S. The U.S. Girls' Team has done a particularly outstanding job so far this season.

The races will climax on Saturday, March 1, with the Men's and Ladies Slalom, to be held on KT-22 on courses that are ideally suited to spectator viewing from the Squaw Valley Lodge sun deck – or comfortably in front of their TV sets at home. Heartier sportsmen will watch the Slalom races by climbing KT-22 along the race course.

Help Needed At Cup Races

Gatekeepers and course policemen are urgently needed for the World Cup races. Volunteers will receive a ski lift pass good for another day at Squaw Valley. Interested parties should contact Mr. Kit Kreiger, Squaw Valley Sports Director, 583-4211, ext. 138.

One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

When such diverse governmental bodies as those in Washington and Reno, with support from Carson City, form a coalition and decide to build a dam on the Truckee River, then it becomes certain that sooner or later the dam will become a fact and there is little that can be done about it.

The city of Reno is anxious to avoid flooding of its streets, the state of Nevada is interested in the water resources and uses of the area, both of which are worthy and understandable projects, and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers – well, they build dams. That's their business. And they must be very good at it because there sure are a lot of dams around.

The fact that the Truckee River is already dammed, at Lake Tahoe, and that every important tributary of the river also has a dam, seems not to have alleviated the flood danger to Reno, even though that was supposed to be a significant factor in their construction. It may be true the flood danger still exists, but it may also be a case of posing a one-in-a-million threat, that is neither realistic nor practical, as an excuse to build another dam where one isn't really needed.

It will be interesting to see if Reno has flooding problems during this year of heavy precipitation.

Verdi is the spot favored by engineers, with Lawtons, Hirschdale, Truckee and Gateway as possible alternates. There is no clue as to their intentions regarding the communities of Truckee or Gateway should they select either of those sites, nor have there been any expressions of remorse about ruining major portions of one of the finest trout streams left in the state if they decide to build the dam at Hirschdale.

If the idea is to protect Reno, and this is the contention, then the logical place for a dam might be Verdi, although I would rather see it down stream a little further in the Truckee Meadows – say, in the vicinity of the South Virginia Street bridge.

There must be other solutions to the threat of floods, such as a relief canal bypassing Reno, but who wants practical answers to a complicated question?

Every tragedy – and I consider any dam on the Truckee a tragic despoliation of this beautiful river – has its comic relief, and in this case the joke is contained in the statements made by Roger Teglia, regional planning commissioner from Reno, who speaks of a flood control dam in terms of "beautification" and a "great recreational asset." Who is he trying to kid? If Reno needs a dam to avoid a reasonable danger of being flooded out, then build the darn thing, but let's not have all this "beautification" and "recreational asset" business fed to us again. Nothing is uglier than a flood control dam and nothing more useless for recreation than the sterile pothole created behind it. There are plenty of examples around. Or wait until they finish with Martis Creek and you'll see what I mean.

Skiers Told About Power Line Danger

Skiers and sled and snowmobile enthusiasts were alerted today to hazards in the unusually deep snow of mountain areas where there are high voltage electric power lines.

Warnings were concurrently issued by officials of Sierra Pacific Power Company and Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

Snow in many mountain ski areas is so high that some high voltage lines are nearly touching it and in some cases may be partially buried by snow, according to John Saibini, Sierra Pacific Power Co. Operating Manager.

New snow today could raise the snow level and increase the peril this weekend, he said.

"It could be fatal for a skier, sled or snow buggy operator to come into contact with a line. A safe distance is not less than 10 feet from the top of the skies or swinging ski poles," Saibini said.

"Snow buggy drivers should pay special heed to this alert because their recreation areas are not clearly defined," Saibini declared. "They should know the area of operation and stay within it, and above all keep away from power lines. Skiers should use only supervised ski runs."

Saibini said snow depths at high elevations may be as much as four times as great as the depth of snow last year.

Tax Disbursal

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Houston I. Flournoy today announced the distribution of $5,022,111 to counties and cities as the January apportionment of cigarette tax.

Placer County's share was $5,984.35, and Nevada County's share was $2,574.33.

Three Teenagers Die In Crash

THREE LOCAL CHILDREN IN FATAL WRECK – Killed in a headon collision on their way to Tahoe-Truckee High School Monday morning on Highway 89 near the Squaw Valley turnoff were Steven Donald Ransom, 17, and Suejean Ransom, 15, children of Mr. and Mrs. William Ransom, and Judy Terry, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Terry; both families live in Tahoe City. – Sun Photo

The entire Tahoe-Truckee community was thrown into a state of shock Monday when it learned of the tragic and sudden death of three Tahoe City teenage children in a headon collision at 8 a.m. on Highway 89 just north of the Squaw Valley turnoff.

Dead are Steven Donald Ransom, 17, and Suejean Ransom, 15, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ransom of Dollar Point, and Judy Terry, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Terry of Comstock Acres.

Father of the Ransom children is manager of Safeway market, and Terry is employed by Pacific Telephone in Tahoe City.

The children were students at Tahoe-Truckee High School and were on their way to classes when Steven Ransom apparently lost control of the four-wheel drive vehicle on slippery pavement, nicked the fender of a car driven by Wayne William Harris, 16, of Homewood, and crossed the centerline into the path of a southbound truck.

The driver of the truck, Noah Davis, 34, of Rio Linda, was unhurt, but the collision caused him to lose control and the truck, loaded with building supply materials, drove the smashed Ransom vehicle in a six-foot snowbank.

Donner Ambulance Service, Truckee, responded to an emergency call from California Highway Patrol officers, but the three teenagers were pronounced dead upon arrival at Tahoe Forest Hospital.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Truckee – Tahoe Mortuary in Truckee.

Funeral Services

Funeral services for the Ransom children will be held at 2 p.m. this afternoon, February 12, at Christ the King Lutheran Church, Tahoe City. Burial will be in Exeter, Calif.

A Rosary service for Judy Terry will be conducted at 8 p.m. tonight at the Truckee-Tahoe Mortuary in Truckee. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, February 13, at 10 a.m. at Corpus Christi Catholic Church, Tahoe City. Interment will be at Trails End Cemetery.

Wolverines Win Two Close Ones

Operating almost as coldly as the outside weather, the Tahoe Truckee Wolverines managed to warm up just enough and in the nick of time to salvage two important basketball wins over the weekend.

The local five downed Colusa Friday night, 37-35, and defeated South Lake Tahoe on the home court, 57-55, taking two overtime periods to accomplish it.

The Colusa game gave Tahoe-Truckee its third Pioneer League victory against two defeats and left them tied for second place. Trailing throughout the entire game by an average 7 points until the final 40 seconds, the Wolverines managed to hold onto a two-point lead until the final buzzer sounded.

Coach Joe de Arrieta attributed the team's "cold" performance to a lack of practice during recent stormy periods. His boys could hit only 26 per cent from the floor against Colusa and 54 per cent from the foul line, but a tight defense and determined team effort salvaged the win.

"The boys worked extra hard because it was a must game. If we had let up even for a minute the game would have been lost," de Arrieta said.

Brian Smart led the offensive attack with 9 points, followed by Bob Walters and George Francheschini with 8 each. Randy Hiatt sparked the defense with a stubborn half court press in the fourth quarter to effectively stifle the opposition and enable the victory.

The Wolverines came onto their home court Saturday against the South Tahoe Vikings and found they were even colder. They hit only 23 per cent of their field goal attempts and 43 per cent from the foul line.

"The shooting was off," de Arrieta said. "We made more mistakes and turnovers than in any of our five previous games. It was just one of those weekends and we were very fortunate to come out on top."

"About the only bright spot Saturday was the play of Mike Davis who scored 18 points for us, all in the second half," the coach said.

George Franceschini and Chris Wiser added 12 and 10 points respectively for the Wolverines, and Wiser and Smart were credited with a fine defensive job on the backboards.

The 57-55 victory made it two in a row for the Wolverines over the rival south shore Vikings.

"I felt the boys were looking ahead to Tuesday night and our showdown with league-leading Lincoln," de Arrieta added. "They are 6 and 0 in league play, but if we can get our shooting back I think we'll be the first to blemish their record. A victory would put us into contention for Truckee's first Pioneer League title. A loss, on the other hand, will drop us out of the running completely. This will be the big one for the Wolverines."

Tahoe-Truckee has a season record of 13 wins and four losses. (Photos on page 4.)

Fire-Ettes To Seat Officers

Friday, February 14, Valentines Day is the date of the installation of officers for the Truckee – Donner Fire-ettes, and will include a cocktail party at 6 p.m. at the Truckee firehouse, followed by dinner and dancing at Donner Lake Lodge.

The firemen and their wives, directors and their wives, and the Truckee Lions Club members and their wives have been invited.

Hostess Ella Waters will be assisted by Ruth Morey and Florence Waters.

Officers to be installed are: President, Lucille Quilici; vice president, Vi White; secretary, Ida Clatterbuck; treasurer, Janet Franklin; chairman of the Board, Felecia Lomax; board members, Daisy Foote, Marilyn Nix, Yolanda Olano and Varian Waters.

Lots Of Wet, Not Over Yet

With still eight months remaining until the end of the season for record precipitation by the U.S. Forest Service, the Truckee ranger station reports 35.43 inches compared to a annual normal of 31.65 inches.

During February, 28 inches of snow with 2.74 inches of moisture fell in Truckee. The normal for the entire month of February is 5.36 inches.

There were 64 inches of snow on the ground at the forest service station Monday evening.

Temperatures have moderated somewhat, although on Feb. 3, a low of minus 3 was recorded, the coldest February day thus far. High temperature for the month at the station was 39, although the airport and other locations in the district reported temperatures in the 40's.

New storms are almost a continuing daily occurance and it is possible that the 1952 records may fall.

PUD Office Will Observe Holiday

The Truckee Donner Public Utility District has announced its office will be closed Friday, Feb. 21 and normal work suspended for the day. Emergency numbers will be listed for emergency needs.

Purpose of the closure is to enable district employes the benefit of the Washington's birthday holiday which falls on Saturday, Feb. 22.

For further information call 587-3896.

Sierra Snowfall Approaching New Record Depths In Area

Forest rangers who are charged with surveying snow depth in the Sierra Nevada are coming to the conclusion that this may be the year when the snowfall may break all records, or come close to it.

In the Lake Valley Ranger District in the first of four snow surveys this year, rangers found 140 inches on the Echo Summit snow course.

Jim Kenpthorne and Gale Dupree, who measured the snow, said it is the second greatest depth since the surveys began in 1940. Echo Summit had 160.5 inches on Feb. 2, 1952.

The average depth on the course is 73.2 inches with a water content of 24.3 inches. Actual depth is 190 per cent of normal, they said.

At the U.S. Forest Service Central Sierra Snow Laboratory at Soda Springs, rangers note 380 inches have fallen this year. In 1967 on the comparable date, a fall of 231 inches had been recorded.

The average pack on the Castle Basin course atop Donner Pass is 168 inches, the rangers report. The average on the Onion Creek course is 108 inches.

Snow depths east of the point of winter closure of California 88 are as much as 100 per cent more than a year ago, according to the Amador Ranger District.

Train Trapped Eight Hours By Snow Slide

Southern Pacific crews Thursday worked nearly eight hours to free 21 cars of a 99-car freight train caught in two snowslides 13 miles west of Norden.

A spokesman for the railroad said the westbound train was partially inside a snow shed when the first slide covered 16 cars just before 9 a.m. Thursday. The first slide was followed minutes later by a second one which covered another five cars at the west end of the shed after the train stopped.

The slides halted rail traffic on the trans-Sierra main line for most of the day while SP crews moved in bulldozers to free the trapped train. The company reported both slides were cleared by mid-afternoon and rail traffic was moving over Donner Summit on schedule by nightfall.

No injuries or damage to the right-of-way was reported.

Wolverine Skiers Win

Tong Yan Sun Neen: Hail The Year Of The Rooster, 4667

BY CARL BRIGGS
Sun Editor

Gung Hay Fat Choy!

Chinese New Year, the time of Tong Yan Sun Neen, is almost upon us. Exit the Year of the Monkey, 4666, enter the Year of the Rooster, 4667. It is a period of celebration, of rejoicing and good will, when bills are paid, gifts exchanged, and a ceremonial dragon is paraded through the streets.

Little has been written of the Chinese and their place in the history of our country, but they were everywhere, literally, and their contributions to the development and growth of the West were immense.

The first Chinese to enter California were probably the two men and a woman who arrived in San Francisco in 1848 aboard the sailing ship "Eagle." Many more Celestials were to follow.

They came as ship's crew, as slaves, as emigrants. They stayed to become miners, railroad laborers, woodcutters, road builders, domestic servants, restaurant proprietors and laundrymen.

Virtually every mining camp in the west had its Chinatown, and some towns were exclusively Oriental. Chinese Camp, in Tuolumne County, had a population in 1856 of over 1,000 Chinese.

There were a thousand Chinese in Virginia City in 1875, another thousand in Truckee, and an 1876 estimate listed 116,000 of them scattered over California.

Labor troubles emerged in the railroad camps and mining districts, and elsewhere, partly from racial prejudice and partly because of the low wages accepted by the Orientals.

Eventually, drastic laws were enacted governing the entry of Chinese, laws that were not revoked until 1943.

The Tahoe basin abounded with Chinese during the great lumbering days; they were cordwood choppers, stackers and loaders, road gangs, cooks, fishermen and menial laborers.

Celestials maintained their own camps, apart from the Caucasian lumberjacks, flume builders and sawyers – usually by mutual preference.

An estimated 12,000 Chinese were employed in building the Central Pacific Railroad across the Sierra.

San Francisco's Chinatown, the largest settlement of Chinese in the world outside the Orient, grew into a teeming mass of humanity, replete with opium dens, bubonic plague and abject slavery. Journalists of the day summoned their most colorful verbiage and brilliant adjectives to thrill readers with tales of Oriental intrigue.

We have read about the hatchetmen and the tong wars, the sing-song girls in towering hair arrangements and deathly-white facial makeup, the open markets with displays of things to eat that Caucasians envisioned only in their nightmares, the Four Families and the Six Companies, the gentle Sun Yat Sen composing the Constitution of the Republic of China nearby in the old Montgomery Block.

There were tales of terror, but also of beauty. "The lonely plaint of distant Chinese music," played on instruments called hsien-tse, p'ai-pan, and pak-ku, music that sounded like ticks and clucks, jingles and squeaks, a tinkle of bells, and often a short violin interlude followed by a deafening roar of gongs and a clash of cymbals.

The fire of 1906 destroyed most of old Chinatown and much of the mystery and intrigue vanished in the smoke along with the clapboard shacks.

Chinatown today is a more sanitary replica, and relative serenity reigns where once the legendary Chinatown Squad of the San Francisco Police Department battled the hatchetmen of the Yang Wo, Kong-Chow, and Sam Yup Tongs – and where the tongs battled incessantly among themselves.

It's a tourist haven now, with fine restaurants, shops and curio stores, and comparative prosperity for its inhabitants being the order of the day.

And the great dragon still serpentines through Grant Avenue (Du Pont Gai) on New Years, its colorful journey marked by the explosive crackle of thousands of firecrackers. This year the parade will be on March 1. It's worth seeing.

Chinese New Year is officially next Monday, February 17. Gung Hay Fat Choy!

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

I want to thank the many wonderful people in this area for all the cards, flowers and expressions of concern during my recent illness. I also want to express my gratitude to my help for all they did to keep my business going and to all the people that did so much for my wife and family.

We are so fortunate to be able to live in such a wonderful area where people really care about their fellow man. Last but by no means least, my greatest expression of appreciation goes to the kindness humanitarian I know, Dr. Ray Wiser.

TRUCKEE DONNER
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
TRUCKEE, CALIFORNIA
(COPY TO THE SIERRA SUN)

Last October 30 I wrote stating that my plans for running two steam powered passenger trains from Omaha and Sacramento to meet at Promontory Point, Brigham City, Utah, to celebrate the "Centennial of the Rails" were at a standstill since neither the Union Pacific nor the Southern Pacific railroads would run a steam operated engine over their lines. The response to this letter of mine was sensational to say the least.

Out of the many replies and phone calls came offers of support if I could secure the necessary motive power. Believe it or not, I have been offered the use of four steam locomotives. Two are in operating condition and have current ICC permits. Of the remaining two, one needs work to be done on it which is scheduled during February, and the other is in operating condition but lacks an ICC permit which can be secured. The locomotives are #5021, ex-Southern Pacific, 4-10-2; #2120, ex Reading, 4-8-4;#75, ex-Great Western, 2-8-0; and #444, ex-Chicago North Western, 4-6-0.

As a result of these offers I wrote Mr. Edd Bailey, president of the Union Pacific Railroad on December 26, and Mr. Benjamin Biagini, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad on January 8, requesting permission to run steam locomotives over their lines. Both presidents of these railroads politely turned down my request in very general terms.

When I wrote Mr. Bailey asking amplification of his phrase . . . "simply because we are not equipped to handle without serious disruptions to our regular operations," he was gracious enough to answer in complete detail. He stated in part, " . . . we have a very busy railroad, and with the kind of competition we are faced with and the absolute necessity of making an all-out effort at all times to handle our traffic to our customers on time, we cannot undertake to operate steam powered trains for excursion purposes."

He further states that he has turned down a number of requests for steam excursion trains because the railroad does not have the proper facilities and employes at the right places. Lack of coal, oil and water for steam engines are cited as other reasons.

The offer made by me to both railroads not only included a steam engine but a 20,000 gallon capacity tank car and the necessary pumper. It included an offer to supply coal or oil anywhere in the United States. Mr. Bill Benson of Steam Tours Inc., Akron, Ohio, offered the use of ex-Reading Railroad Engine #2102, a 4-8-4. Mr. Tom Braunger and the Railroad Historical & Locomotive Society, Southern California Branch, offered the use of ex-Southern Pacific vintage 1926 Engine #5021, a 4-10-2.

With these offers to the two railroads went not only water and fuel but acceptance of a minimum passenger guarantee and excursionists to have their meals aboard the trains included in the total tour price to cover the dining car expense. Lounge car revenue would belong to the railroads. These are the usual requirements of a special train.

On January 24, I made a new offer to both railroads. I stated that if the presidents of these roads would run one steam excursion train to cover all their requests for steam. Rogers Tour & Travel would act as liason to allocate space aboard these two excursions. Rogers Tour & Travel would forego any profit if the railroads would do likewise. This plan was also turned down by Mr. Bailey and Mr. Biagini, presidents of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railroads.

In the December 21 issue of Transportation Week an article entitled, "Golden Spike Re-enactment to Celebrate 100 Years of Transcontinental Rail Service" lists 39 events during the 1969 Centennial year. Only four of these events have any participation by railroads in the United States. The remaining 35 events are sponsored by interested clubs, colleges, historical societies and people not connected with the railroad industry. It would seem that everybody is celebrating the 1969 Rail Centennial but the railroads! One must assume that their lack of interest in their own beginnings is the fear that any nostalgic passenger train activity would deviate from their policy of downgrading and eliminating passenger travel from their operations.

The securing and offering of these two steam engines for these excursions to the railroads has entailed quite a bit of effort on the part of Rogers Tour & Travel. My reasons for these two steam operated trains goes beyond a profit of a successful trip. My grandfather worked for the Rio Grande & Southern and my father was killed in a railway accident at Corona, Colorado, on the old Denver & Salt Lake Railroad long before the Moffat Tunnel was bored under the Continental Divide. I have featured escorted rail tours for the past five years, whether it be steam (narrow gauge) or diesel. I just happen to like trains!

Therefore, the final answer to this question of two steam powered excursions in May, 1969, is up to each of you. I have secured the steam motive power, have located old heavyweight type pullmans, diners, lounge and open-end observation cars.

Once again I am asking for your help and support. Even the ICC has commented that I have an excellent and timely idea. Please use your influence to secure a change of attitude on the part of these presidents of two recalcitrant railroads, namely, the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific.

May I have your wholehearted support and prestige put behind this effort of mine to run two steam powered rail excursions come May 8, 1969.

Hal M. Rogers
Rogers Tour & Travel
San Jose

PS – The High Iron Company will run a steam excursion train from New York City on May 3, returning May 18, using steam engine No. 759. This is a chair car excursion with stops every night and lodging in hotels. (The train) will operate from New York to Kansas City. From Kansas City to Salt Lake City and return the High Iron Company will be forced to use Union Pacific diesels over Union Pacific trackage and leave the steam engine at Kansas City. This means the Penn-Central, Norfolk & Western and the Western Maryland railroads are willing to operate steam engines over their lines. Thus the excuses and objections raised by the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific apparently do not exist on these lines.

Therefore, if other railroads, who are NOT celebrating their centennial are willing to operate steam excursions, why does the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific adamantly continue to refuse to operate steam engines over their trackage. Whose birthday is the 1969 celebration commemorating? Certainly not the Penn-Central.

Bub Tobiassen Explains Refund

Nevada County Assessor E.A. "Bub" Tobiassen in explaining the homeowners $70 refund for 1968-1969, and exemption of $750 in assessed value for 1969-1970, stated that in order to process and implement the new law with a minimum of cost to the county, he must have a maximum of cooperation of the homeowners and taxpayers.

The passage by the voters of Proposition 1-A and the Property Tax Relief as enacted by Senate Bill "8" by the Legislature, has made eligible in Nevada County approximately 6,000 to 7,000 homeowners for the refund and exemption. Tobiassen said the law states the assessor must have available on March 1, 1969, the proper forms with instructions for the homeowner who occupied the home as his legal place of residence on March 1, 1968. This form is an application for refund in the amount of $70, which will be remitted by the State Controller's Office on or about June 15, 1969. The other form is for the 1969-1970 homeowners exemption of $750 in assessed value.

Both forms will be mailed out on March 1 to owners of record. Those buying on contract of sale are eligible for both the refund and exemption, providing a copy of their contract of sale is filed with the forms as of lien date March 1, 1968. However, Tobiassen stated that anyone who is eligible, not receiving the forms should obtain them from the assessor's office in the courthouse annex or from the county liason officer at the county government building in Truckee, where an adequate supply will be available.

The claim forms must be completed and filed with the county assessor between March 1 and April 15, 1969. In the Truckee area, forms will be accepted personally by the county liason officer, Ray Craig, at the county government center. The assessor must process the refund claims as to eligibility and mail his certified list to the State Controller by May 15, 1969.

Veterans who are receiving the veteran's exemption are not eligible for the homeowners refund, however, a veteran owning more than one parcel may file the homeowners exemption for the 1969-1970 on the parcel he occupies on March 1, and file his veteran's exemption on the other parcel, thus making him eligible for both exemptions. Veterans who own only one parcel should also fill out the homeowners exemption claim for 1969-1970 in case his veterans exemption claim is denied by being "over the limit" in total assets.

Tobiassen also explained that senior citizens now receiving tax relief from the state are eligible for the homeowner refund and exemption if they qualify.

Those not eligible include renters, welfare recipients whose taxes are included in their payments, vacation or secondary homes, units in housing projects which are not separately assessed.

Cooperation asked by the county assessor includes mainly the honest and complete filling out of the forms by the homeowner. The forms are simple with proper instructions included. By returning them to the county assessor as soon as possible after receipt the list of eligible claimants can be processed, certified and mailed to the State on time, thus eliminating a delay of the refund check.

The new law also eliminates the assessment of household furniture known as personal property but does not include boats, aircraft, farm machinery or livestock or personal property used in connection with a trade, profession or business. No form or action for this exemption is necessary by the homeowner.

Business inventories are exempt 15 per cent of their assed valuation and include all tangible personal property whether raw material, work in process or finished goods which are a part of items of personalty held for sale in the ordinary course of business. Also included are crops and animals used in the production of food or fiber. No adjustment of value may be made by the business owner, but will be done by the assessor's office. Business owners are also asked to return their business declaration forms to the assessor as soon as possible after March 1, to eliminate the possibility of losing this exemption by late filing.

The cost to the county to administer this emergency is expected to total approximately $5,000 whereas the state will re-imbruse about $3,000 by paying the county fifty-cents for each refund claim we process which will total an estimated 6000 claims. The state classifies the law as an immense project but Tobiassen said most assessors nicknamed it an administrative "Monster."

A pamphlet entitled "A Summary of the Property Tax Relief Law" prepared by the State Board of Equalization is now available at the Grass Valley City Hall, Nevada City Hall, Truckee county government center, and the Nevada County Assessor's Office in the courthouse annex.

Chappie Bill To Protect Area History

A bill to stimulate and coordinate preservation of Mother Lode and gold rush history has been introduced by Assemblyman Gene Chappie (R-Cool).

Called the Mother Lode Historical Preservation Commission Act of 1969, the bill would establish a seven-man commission to "initiate, stimulate, coordinate and implement" efforts by local government and private entities. The commission's jurisdiction would include a range of specified counties from Butte on the north to Madera on the south, and Alpine, Mono, Yuba and Sacramento. Adjacent counties with related gold historical areas would also be under the commission's jurisdiction.

"I am concerned," said Chappie, "that unless we take immediate steps, the great heritage of the Mother Lode will be either lost or destroyed forever. "The discovery of gold at Coloma in 1848, was the direct cause of the greatest international mass migration the world has seen. "The Gold Rush has had a momentous significance in world history. Therefore, I feel it is in the best interest of the people of this state that the heritage of this gold rush era be preserved for the study, inspiration and pleasure of today's and tomorrow's generations."

The Chappie measure provides for the appointment of representatives of the various counties making up the Mother Lode. The commission would be authorized to accept donations from any private or public source to implement its purposes and would be deposited in a Mother Lode Historical Preservation Fund. The bill asks for a $25,000 appropriation, principally to hire an executive secretary with an assistant to implement the commission's directives.

Public Land Discussed

FOLSOM – H. Curt Hammit, district manager, Folsom District of the Bureau of Land Management, announced Monday that a public hearing on the classification of public domain land in Alpine and Mono counties will be held Feb. 11.

The hearing will be at 7 p.m. in the Agriculture Extension Conference Room, County Courthouse, Minden, Nev.

Bureau employes will present the proposed multiple – use classification of approximately 38,815 acres of public domain.

Public lands to be classified for retention in federal ownership will be managed for livestock grazing, fish and wildlife development and utilization, recreation, mineral production, watershed protection, wilderness preservation and the preservation of public values.

At the time of the hearing, interested parties may comment upon, endorse or protest the proposed classification. Written comments on the proposed classification may be submitted to the Folsom District Office at 63 Natoma St., Folsom, Calif. 95630, until March 24.

Indian Lore Is Cubs Theme

Indian Lore, one of the most popular Cub Scout program themes, is scheduled for the month of March according to Dr. Mitchell C. Lewis, Scout commissioner of the Tahoe Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In Placer, Nevada and Western Sierra Counties, 36 Cub Scout packs will include Indian crafts, games, arts, dances, costumes, and stories, as well as the study of specific tribes in their weekly den meetings. The monthly pack meeting of each pack, which is sponsored by a religious, civic, school, or other community group, will be a cermonial night featuring a program related to Indian life and Indiantype ceremonies for the presentation of advancement awards.

"The most important part of the Indian Lore them," Lewis explained, "is that the things the Cub Scouts will do will be authentic and 'not just playing Indian' ",

The older Boy Scouts in March will follow the theme Emergency Preparedness, with the month's highlight being Scouts to the Rescue, Lewis said.

Activities that troops may include in their weekly meetings will be related to an emergency-feeding project and to troop and patrol mobilizations and equipment. In addition to the basic troop program, many troops will also schedule training to earn the national "Prepared" troop citation, hold a parents' night to discuss summer camp plans, and take part in a natural beauty cleanup project, Lewis said.

Mayfield Family Donates High School Scholarship

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mayfield of Tahoe City have donated a scholarship, to be included in the community scholarship program for the Class of 1969 at Tahoe Truckee High School.

The Mayfields are long-time residents of the area, where Mr. Mayfield has been engaged in the contracting and building business. They now reside at the lake in summer and in Hemet during the winter.

The Mayfield scholarship is an open award, the recipient to be selected by the scholarship committee. The community scholarship program has grown through the years, and approximately 14 local organizations and individuals provide in excess of $5000 each spring to winners in the senior class.

Scholarship awards are based on academic excellence, character, financial need, and participation in community and school activities.

The heavy snow storms that have been raging throughout the mountains this week have piled up nine feet of snow at Summit and it ranges from four feet in Truckee all the way to nine feet between here and there.

* * *

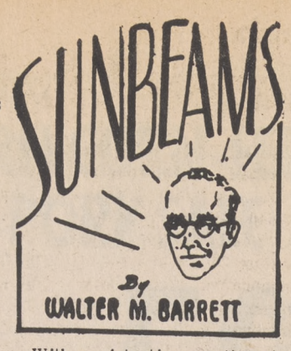
The storm of the past week has played havoc in Truckee. For the first time this winter, the town has been without electric lights. Snow and slush ice have completely filled the river and it looks as though it would be possible to ski across the stream at almost any point between the power house and the bridge. The flume became jammed with ice, there was no water for the wheel and, consequently, there were no lights. One of the poles at the corner of Whitney House fell with the immense load of snow Monday night and this end of town has been without lights since, until Thursday night.

* * *

Last Tuesday morning a snow and earth slide took out about 150 feet of railroad snowsheds in the vicinity of Eder on the south side of Donner Lake. This tied up rail traffic for a period of 14 hours. During the day, passengers from No. 1 and No. 209 had a great time enjoying winter sports, watching motion picture companies in action and so forth. Damage was estimated in the vicinity of $10,000.

* * *

Between Truckee and Polaris, telephone lines were out. The crossarms on the poles were broken off by the weight of the snow on the wires. A large crew of men has been working since the storm trying to straighten out the tangle so that Truckee could again communicate with the outside world.



With no intention or attempt to discredit or downgrade the supermarkets, which we recognize as a sure sign of progress offering convenience thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the present population of our society, we would like to inject a word on behalf of the small, independent merchants.

Whether we admit it or not, these independent, home-town merchants formed the backbone of our communities, the people who have served to make it possible for the larger stores to find profit in expanding into the suburbs and smaller communities.

Probably only those among us who are old enough to recall the earlier marketing days will appreciate the small-town and neighborhood markets and the problems they faced in serving their customers. With credits doubtful, none, in most cases at least, was ever refused. Service was a watchword. Profits were necessary, of course, but competition provided the only guideline.

When donations for worthy purposes were required, the independent merchants were the first called upon to participate. They were always an easy mark, depended upon to meet any situation without question or complaint.

Many families, particularly during the so-called depression years, before government made it possible for everyone to feed at the public trough, month after month by their neighbor, the independent merchant. How many of these families subsequently paid their account is problemetical. But there was seldom a complaint from the neighborhood merchant.

We have a real feeling for the small buinessman. We were one ourselves and know from experience what it takes to be on your own with only the support and goodwill of your neighbor.

Angelo Noce

Chappie Resolution Honors Historic Figure

SACRAMENTO — Angelo Noce, "The Father of Columbus Day" . . . early this month, I introduced Assembly Joint Resolution 4 calling on the United States Post Office to issue a commemorative stamp honoring Angelo Noce as the "Father of Columbus Day."

The resolution further requests that the President of the United States proclaim Oct. 5 through 12, 1969, as Angelo Noce Week.

Like Columbus, Angelo Noce was born in Genoa, Italy. As a young boy Angelo developed an early interest in Columbus and took part in Columbus Day celebrations in Italy.

In 1850 Angelo's parents set sail for the new world, and after having a difficult time in New York the family headed for the gold fields of California.

After finding and working fairly productive diggings, the Noce family settled in a home about eight miles east of Jackson. Angelo attended school in Jackson and graduated from St. Mary's College in 1863.

Upon completing his schooling, Angelo moved to Denver, Colo., where he becmae successful as a printer and became influential in local politics and civic affairs.

Every Oct. 12, the Denver Italian Community celebrated Columbus day, and Angelo Noce felt everyone should hold this event of world history in high honor.

Noce first proposed a Columbus Monument to be built in Colorado, but when he was turned down he decided to put all his effort into making Columbus Day a legal holiday in Colorado. Through a friend in the Colorado House of Representatives, Noce got the bill introduced. Colorado Gov. Jesse F. McDonald officially proclaimed Oct. 12, 1905, as Columbus Day throughout the state.

Noce devoted the rest of his life to making Columbus Day a national holiday. He went from state to state talking to legislatures, civic and religious leaders. When he died in 1922 at the age of 74, 35 states had adopted his proposal.

A simple tombstone in a cemetery in Jackson, Calif., marks the last resting place of the forgotten founder of Columbus Day, Angelo Noce.

Plan New Subdivision In Area Near Truckee

A group of San Francisco peninsula investors has announced formation of a new recreation land company, Perazzo Properties, to develop a vacation homes sub-division on a lakeside near Truckee.

Wallace Richardson, general partner of Perazzo Properties, said about 400 lots, one-half to five acres each, will be offered for sale around a new lake to be created on the Little Truckee River in Sierra County.

The 676-acre site is 17 miles northwest of Truckee. It is located along the historic Henness Pass Road, which was a major supply route for gold miners more than a century ago. It is accessable from California 89.

The development company is being formed to finance roads, power and water supply. The State Water Rights Board has granted permission for construction of a 150-acre lake, which will be restricted to use by the residents.

Richardson, a United Air Lines pilot and peninsula investor, said the subdivision will be for "low key" leisure use, without extensive commercial development.

Warn On Fire Danger

The importance of checking roof vents and heating systems for snow and ice coverings was re-emphasized this week by Chief Albert M. Henry Jr. of Tahoe City Fire Protection District.

"The winter of 1964-65 was very much like the winter we are now experiencing. There was a lot of rain, snow and freezing temperatures," Henry said.

He noted that during the 1964-65 winter months of December and January the district was called to 13 structure fires. So far this year we have had eight structure fires, he added, pointing out the fire dangers caused by the winter weather.

"Be sure that the roof vents for your furnace and hot water heater are not covered with snow and ice," Henry said. He also suggested that area residents uncover their propane tank regulator or gas meter so that snow and ice will not accumulate to freeze or break any part of the system.

He added that the gas companies are cooperating with the fire protection district keeping facilities in safe operation.

Do you realize that February is half-over? Just 83 days until school is concluded. However, no one can really complain about too much school. We are averaging a four-day school week for 1969. Because of the extra days off, we will be going to school on Lincoln's birthday, but so far Washington's birthday will be celebrated over a three-day weekend.

Emergency Road Repair Funds Ready

An emergency damage repair budget was established today by the California Highway Commission to provide funds required to restore and replace State highways damaged during last month's storms and floods.

The Commission allocated $9,237,850 from two contingency reserves to the repair budget after reviewing Department of Public Works reports that estimated damages in that amount.

Almost equal sums were transferred from the two reserve contingency funds which are required to comply with laws that require all State highway construction monies be pro-rated on a 55-45 per cent basis between 13 southern and 45 northern counties. The southern fund provided $4,862,500 and the northern fund $4,375,350.

In an allied action, the commission allocated an additional $1-million to a San Francisco freeway project now under construction that suffered considerable storm damage.

The money is required to correct damage and provide additional drainage facilities and other protection on Interstate 15 along the 12-mile section between Devore and Route 138.

The commission directed that a more detailed list of statewide projects and financing be presented to it at a later meeting.

Today's special meeting in Sacramento was required because the expenditure of funds required by repair activities needed Commission approval.

Here he shoots from the corner – and made it. – Sun Photo

Sierra Skiing

By VI and CARSON WHITE

Last weekend was better than most, but not perfect; good skiing Saturday morning until the strong wind came up and whipped the powder snow around; rain and wet stuff fell Sunday and low clouds made visability poor.

The Junior races at Alpine Meadows were plagued again with poor conditions, fog and avalanche problems. Because of cancellations, the kids will be hard pressed to make up the necessary points by March 15 to compete in the Junior Nationals at Alyeska, Alaska. Two giant slaloms, three downhills and four slaloms need to be run to catch up.

The next attempt to hold a point meet will be next weekend at Squaw Valley where Junior A, IV and V FWSA racers will be running the giant slalom.

The Art Linkletter Family Slalom has been re-set for Saturday at 1 p.m. at Alpine Meadows, having been originally scheduled earlier.

The three classes, Family I, two adults and one child; Family II, two adults and two children, and Family III, two adults and three children. The dual slalom will be a fun race, but when fathers race against each other, mothers against each other, and then the kids, it will be a serious challenge to cross the finish line first.

Art Linkletter will make the awards around 4:30 p.m. at the lodge. Attractive mugs and trays will be presented this year.

Guy Michael Assumes Management Of Incline Chataux

Guy Micheal, widely–known in the Reno–Tahoe area as the man who bought and made the Mt. Rose Christmas Tree restaurant famous, takes over the Incline Chataux country club restaurant Wednesday, Feb. 12, James Carey, general manager of country club and resort operations for Incline Village, Inc., announced today.

It's a red letter day for Michael who celebrates the Feb. 12, 1965 anniversary when he took over the Chataux for Arthur L. Wood, after the Christmas Tree burned down. Michael went back to the re–built Christmas Tree that june, later sold his interest.

Up until accepting his new post, Michael has been running the Tahoe Racquet Club restaurant at Incline Village. His wide experience started with the ownership of a Rochester, N.Y. restaruant, where he had also run a private club for 15 years. Other prominent restaurants that owed their success to Guy Michael include the Hollywood Beach Hotel, Florida; the Chalfonte–Haddon in Atlantic City and the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Michael credits his success to personal confrontation of customers. "I walk right up, greet them and take their orders myself. It cost nothing to be nice to people and make them feel at home."

This is one quality that differentiates one restaurant from another and led to national recognition for Michael in Holiday magazine.

Michael came to Lake Tahoe in 1952.

"I made a trip to Reno and friends sold me on the idea of buying the Christmas Tree. I fell in love with the country and sold my Rochester restaurant as fast as possible," Michael said.

"The philosophy of doing business in the mountains differs from the Eastern concept," Michael said. "No matter how prestigious the dining, it's still informal. Ski clothes and sports clothes are in."

Michael said he plans to add gourmet touches to the Chataux menu, including spinach and other savory salads.

He said he learned the restaurant business in the school of hard knocks. "I never took any formal courses," he said.

The large following gathered during his days at the Christmas Tree, Tahoe Racquet Club and Chataux shows that his years in the school of hard knocks have paid off.

Any Safe Port In A Storm

Any port in a storm was probably the idea of a snow weary blue jay who found it's way down the chimney of the unlighted fireplace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pace at Gateway Park, during a recent blizzard.

Mrs. Pace became uneasy as she continued to hear unrecognized rustling in the papers, calling her husband when pine cones there began to fall apart, without seeing the intruder.

A pair of gloves, plus a fish net were used by Pace to release the unusual visitor from behind the glass screen into a nearby tree.

Senate Action Sought On Nevada Tahoe Bill

CARSON CITY – A drive is under way in the Nevada legislature to move a bill creating an interim Nevada Lake Tahoe Regional Planning Agency out of Nevada Senate by week's end at the latest so the assembly can begin considering SB32 next week.

The upper house committee on federal, state and local governments approved a number of amendments to the measure Monday so it can be re-referred to the finance committee as soon as it is returned from the state printing office.

There appears to be no opposition and since the bill appropriates only $70,000 for the three fiscal years ending June 30, 1971, the finance committee was not expected to delay the measure.

Authored by Sen. Coe Swobe, R-Reno, SB32 matches on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe the already functioning interim planning agency with authority over California's two-thirds of the lake basin.

Like that of California, the Nevada interim agency would be charged with preventing possible pollution of the mile-high lake's waters and haphazard development around Tahoe's shores until Congress gives its consent to a bi-state regional planning agency to watch over the entire lake basin.

Both Nevada and California approved legislation creating the bi-state compact last year, but the consent of Congress is necessary before the interstate agency can begin functioning.

Among major amendments to the interim agency bill approved by the Senate committee Monday were provision for the three counties on the Nevada side of the lake to match the state appropriation to finance the agency, provide for a smooth transition to the bi-state agency immediately after congressional consent, restore the Nevada half of the compact as a state agency in the event the compact should be dissolved at a later date, and permit condemnation of the 300-acre, so-called Spooner Triangle in Douglas County for inclusion in Nevada's Lake Tahoe State Park.

Swobe said he was hopeful the bill could be moved quickly out of the assembly once it makes its way to the lower house. Members of the assembly committee on governmental affairs joined the senate committee early in the session for a special hearing on the legislation at which no opposition was expressed.

Gov. Paul Laxalt is a strong supporter of the bill and is expected to sign it into law shortly after he receives it.

At this urging last year, the five men who will serve on the interim agency and later on the bi-state compact were appointed and since have been acting as an advisory group on various planning and zoning questions involving land on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe.

LAKE ECHOES

By BETHEL

It was from sunshine to snow for Pearl and Ted Draney and Carol Harris of Incline Beach when they all returned from an extended vacation to the Virgin Island. They visited Jamica, St. Johns, St. Thomas and San Juan. They flew high over Cuba too – Ted winning a fun contest with champagne as the prize - and celebrating Pearl's birthday on January 29.

Although their plane wasn't high-jacked, the next flight was - so they missed Havana by sheer luck.

Ted returned home a week earlier than the gals who went to Fulton, Missouri, to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Truitt, and on to Oklahoma City where they visited their sister and two brothers and their families.

Pearl has another definition of happiness after all the traveling the trio did - its arrival home without having anyone cash in all the insurance policies they took out while flying!

* * *

February is birthday month apparently. Betty Facciolla observed hers on the 8th, Lee Cunningham will celebrate the 18th and Bethel will do something on the 19th. Betty and Dave Solari, former Kings Beachers, celebrated January 30 and 31.

* * *

Ella Mae Porter of Incline Beach accompanied the Polaris snowmobile team to Susanville for a fun weekend.

* * *

Bev Ketchum, wife of Dr. Wm. Ketchum, of Incline Village was hospitalized at Tahoe Forest Hospital in Truckee several days last week. She will undergo further tests next week at St. Mary's in Reno.

* * *

Michelle Sayre of Incline Village has joined the staff of the Bavarian Beauty Salon at Incline. Vicki Macon and Darlene Kison are also at the shop which is owned by Mary Macon. Mary was in Reno last week for a complete check-up and the doctors gave her a good report. She hopes to be back at the shop come June.

The Republican Women's Club of Crystal Bay and Incline Village held installation of officers at the Crystal Bay Club Friday night. Assemblywoman Mary Frazzini was the installing officer and Assemblyman Bart Schouweiler the speaker of the evening. He was introduced by Assemblyman C. E. Lingenfelter. Laurie Lingenfelter accompanied her husband to the affair from Reno. Ann and Ben Damanchki, he the president of the North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, were also guests of the club.

Doramae Jackobson was installed as president, Lois Bub as vice-president, Betty Facciolla, corresponding secretary, Ellen Fichtner, recording secretary and Pat Desmond, treasurer.

A cocktail hour at the Jakobson home preceeded the dinner and installation.

Wednesday night the club met at the Jakobson home to discuss plans for the Spring Fashion Show scheduled for March 15 at the Crystal Bay Club with fashions from Gina's. So, March 15 unless – (so 'twas whispered – snow).

* * *

Speaking of snow, Alex Cushing said Squaw Valley for once has too much snow. At this time in 1960 everyone was praying for snow for the Olympics. Well, this is a record-breaking year for snow, with more to come. Best enjoy it.

* * *

In the mail! A thank you note and acknowledgment of support from Richard Nixon in The White House to Bethel.

Tricia and Lee Holley and baby, Karin, are back to Incline after a San Francisco trip. They are looking forward to a visit from her parents. Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson of London, next month. The Johnstons are anticipating their first visit to 6-month-old granddaughter, Karin.

* * *

Melinda Santasoussa is home to husband, Danny, and Incline after an extended stay in Pennsylvania. Our sympathy to Melinda on the death of her mother which occurred during her visit there.

* * *

It is with sadness that we report the passing of Bernita Jones, wife of Wiley Jones, of Brockway, last Tuesday. Bernita was a long time Tahoe resident and was for many years employed at the Crystal Bay Club. She is survived by two sons, John Shaver of Brigantine, N.J., and Donald M. Shaver of Tahoe City.

Our deepest sympathy to Wiley and the family.

* * *

H.E. "Mac" McCoskey of Incline Beach participated in a trap-shooting competition in Las Vegas last week. From there he went on to Los Angeles for several days before returning home.

* * *

Gerry and Don Marek and children of Incline Village entertained as weekend guests Dr. and Mrs. Don Harvey and sons of San Rafael.

* * *

Dr. Joseph and Barbara Furlong enplaned to San Francisco last weekend – too much snow to drive! Neighbors, Noreen and Jack Crom reported ten feet at their residence in Chataux Acres.

* * *

The Women's Club of North Tahoe held their installation of officers February 3 at the Lake Tahoe Hotel, with Sophie Leyra as installing officer. Judy Thatcher was installed as president for a second term; Mary Kravchonak, vice president; Barbara Kindred, secretary; and Gloria Negroni, treasurer. A Valentine motiff enhanced the luncheon.

New members of the club are Martha Bernard, Lee Cunningham, Marie Garman, Virginia Goodall, Mary Greenrod, Jean Little, Taffy Miller, Mary Rankin, Mary Ann Townsend, Cleo Tsapralis, Jolna Watkins and Joan Wyland.

* * *

Eda Judy of Kings Beach is visiting her daughter and son-in-law Carol and Gene Howard, at Grants Pass, Oregon. She was especially happy to have her daughter, Frances, visit them from her home at Anchorage, Alaska. Eda reported Grants Pass was not overlooked when it came to snow.

* * *

Rev. Jim and Pat Hutchison of Kings Beach welcomed a baby daughter, Christian Ann, born at Tahoe Forest Hospital on January 22. The Hutchisons have another daughter, Dale.

Rev. Hutchison is the minister of the Kings Beach Methodist Church.

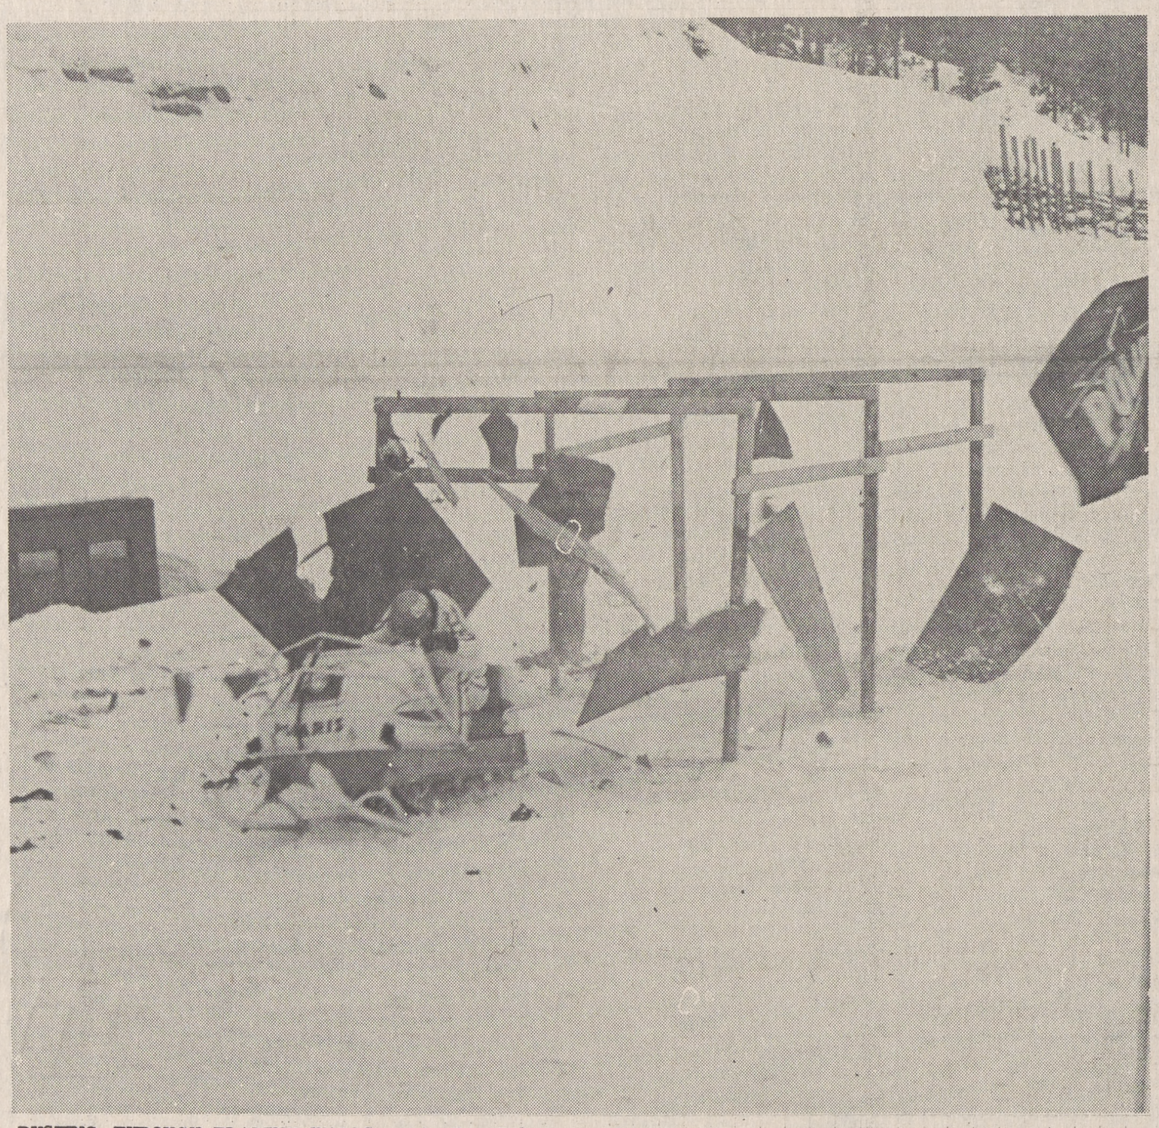
Now It's Wild Thrills At The Ponderosa Ranch

DID YOU SEE THAT? — Hard to believe, but this snowmobile rider, a member of the Polaris racing team, jumped over a lineup of Bill Anderson's antique vehicles at the Ponderosa Ranch Sunday during an exhibition and press party which included the Cartwrights — Ben, Hoss and Little Joe — Senator Howard Cannon (Dem-Nevada), a gaggle of ski writers and other news types. —Sun Photo



BUSTING THROUGH FLAMING WALLS — Another Polaris snowmobile rider rode his snorting steed through three walls set ablaze Sunday at the Ponderosa Ranch at Incline Village. Visitors to the Cartwright's spread, and the Cartwrights themselves, took demonstration rides on snowmobiles furnished for the occasion by the Polaris people. Press party included a steak barbecue and the consumption of warming restoratives in the Silver Dollar Saloon. Sun Photo

Jack De Ryk Recovering From Fall

Jack deRyk, well known Truckee resident, operator of Truckee Rents and member of the Tahoe Truckee School board, is in the Tahoe Forest Hospital with a badly bruised lung and several broken ribs as a result of a fall from the roof of his home last Thursday.

deRyke was climbing a ladder preparatory to shoveling the snow from the roof when he slipped and fell a distance of 12 feet, landing on a fence post beside the house.

Chamber Pot-Shots:

By BETTY LAYTON

The onrush of the snow age upon Lake Tahoe is bringing great snow-shovelling opportunities. We understand that the hourly charge is going up, up, up, and employes are quitting their $2 per hour jobs to shovel at $5! If only ole Sol would do more of its work, the balance of the economy would be maintained.

The California Highway Department doesn't have enough equipment to keep going on a round-the-clock basis without normal break-downs and the usual time for maintenance men to intensify their defenses. Tempers flare. Muscles and equipment sag. There are the good guys and the bad guys. The auto-24-hr-tow-service, the highway department and the chamber of commerce are usually classified as the latter.

The one day the sun comes out suddenly everyone forgets the previous five days of downfall and expects roads to miraculously be dissolved of their 30 ft. high banks of snow. Men and equipment are suppose to accomplish all inhumanly possible feats in a day – in all sections of the Greater North Lake Tahoe area at once. Shades of the Donner party. Time to devour your neighbor! Five months from now, while basking on Lake Tahoe, the big winter of '69 will be forgotten.

In spite of the weather, events must go on. The Mini-Olympics was staged Saturday at Ski Incline. It is a charity event for the benefit of the East Bay Crippled Childrens Hospital. The Wentworths staged their own apres' mini-party which turned out to be not so "mini." Everyone wound up the successful day at the Chataux.

And the Ponderosa gang are not to be subdued by a little snowfall. Their big snowmobile party with cocktails and buffet on Sunday for an invited throng was everything the Cartwrights planned it would be. Ben looked the grand, sharp-minded, energetic leader of the clan, while "Hoss" was distinct with his rolled-up, shirt sleeved attire in contrast with everyone else who was bundled up to the eyebrows.

The blue-quilted jump suits of the Polaris crews were standouts in the throng. "Little Joe" brought a sudden aura of the Bonanza world. Two fearless daredevils of the snowmobile clique gave faultless performances to riding: 1. A Polaris off a jump, flying over vehicles over 65 ft., and 2. A Polaris diving through flaming walls (3) of plywood. Larry Bub did not entirely escape the air of a fight manager wondering nervously whether his men were really going to live up to the billing.

* * *

Chairman of the legislative committee, Ron McIntyre, announced at the board of directors meeting Wednesday at the River Ranch that he had discussed the "home rule" issue with Assemblyman Gene Chappie and he would be making a report on this new legislation soon. He also announced that letters would be sent to chamber members for them to sign and send to their congressmen regarding Monday holidays. Lake Tahoe area would particularly benefit from the five holidays designated for Mondays. A questionnaire will be sent to members soon to ascertain what issues before Congress are of particular interest to our businesses.

President Damanchki announced the appointment of Carol Onorato, Ellen Attardi, and Sharon McIntyre to a new educational committee. They will be studying different phases of education legislation and make recommendations to the chamber.

Bill Parson of Squaw Valley, who is North Lake Tahoe Chamber's representative, will attend the promotional committee meeting in Auburn Tuesday along with president Ben Damanchki and the manager. The chamber voted to extend a welcome to the 150 athletes and 50 newsmen expected to attend the World Cup races at Squaw Valley the last of February and the first of March. Bowls of fruit will be placed in each skier and newsman's room.

Channel 3, Sacramento, will be showing films of the North Lake Tahoe Snowmobile Races Thursday and Friday between 5:30 and 6 p.m. The showing will be about two minutes in length.

Annual Bingo Party On Tap

A Mardi Gras Bingo Party has been scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. at Pop's Corner in Tahoe City. There will be games, prizes and refreshments. The public is invited.

The annual event is sponsored by the Corpus Christi Catholic Church Ladies' Guild and proceeds go to the guild's projects for the church. Mrs. Pat Harder, telephone 583-5166, is in charge of the event.

Michaels Goes To Chataux

Guy Michael, widely-known in the Reno-Tahoe area as the man who bought and made the Mt. Rose Christmas Tree restaurant famous, takes over the Incline Chataux country club restaurant Feb. 12, James Carey, general manager of country club and resort operations for Incline Village Inc., has announced.

It's a red letter day for Michael who celebrates the Feb. 12, 1965, anniversary when he took over the Chataux for Arthur L. Wood, after the Christmas Tree burned down. Michael went back to the re-built Christmas Tree that June, later sold his interest.

Up until accepting his new post, Michael has been running the Tahoe Racquet Club restaurant at Incline Village. His wide experience started with the ownership of a Rochester, N.Y. restaurant, where he had also run a private club for 15 years.

Michael credits his success to personal confrontation of customers. "I walk right up, greet them and take their orders myself. It costs nothing to be nice to people and make them feel at home."

This is one quality that differentiates one restaurant from another and led to national recognition for Michael in Holiday magazine.

Michael came to Lake Tahoe in 1952.

Bank Supports Upward Trend

SAN FRANCISCO – Bank of America announced this week it would make Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration loans at par in an effort to support California's upward trend in residential construction.

C. E. McCarthy, vice president in charge of real estate loan development, said Bank of America will eliminate its previous five point discount, effective immediately, and offer FHA and VA loans at the current interest ceiling of 7 1/2 per cent.

"We believe this action will help maintain mortgage activity near current levels, despite the recent tightening in financial markets.

State Adoption Service Names Brantley Director

LOS ANGELES – New executive director of California Children's Home Society is Julian K. Brantley, Woodland Hills.

Announcement of Brantley's selection to head the statewide adoption agency was made by Dr. Lewis F. Boddie, state president of the nonprofit organization, which operates 22 offices in California.

Brantley assumed his new post Saturday, succeeding Clyde Getz, who retires after 25 years as head of the agency. Under Getz, Children's Home Society has become the nation's largest privately supported adoption service.

Assistant executive director since 1964, Brantley came to the society's state headquarters in Los Angeles after six years in Sacramento as CHS Central Valley district director.

Succeeding Brantley as assistant executive director is Jack A. Henry, who has been the Society's Central Valley district director headquartered in Sacramento since 1964.

Children's Home Society set a new adoption record in 1968, placing 1,903 children for adoption throughout California. Total adoptions since the society's founding in 1891 exceed 32,000.

Endorsed by and a participating member of united giving organizations throughout the state, Children's Home Society is California's only adoption agency serving the needs of children and families in all 58 counties. The Society's 22 of-

Trial Scheduled On Pot Charges

Robert A. Bollinger, 22 and Jack R. Flading, 20, both of Kings Beach, will go on trial in Auburn April 15 on charges of selling and possessing marijuana.

The trial date was set last week after the pair pleaded innocent to three counts each of selling the narcotic and one count each of possessing it.

They were arrested last fall by sheriff's detectives on information supplied by an undercover agent.

FAA Asks Opinions On Pole

Comments are invited by the Federal Aviation Administration regarding a proposed antenna pole higher than allowable near Truckee-Tahoe Airport.

Scope Recording and Broadcasting Co. of San Mateo wishes to build the antenna pole which would be about 70 feet higher than FAA regulations allow.

The pole is planned for a site 11,600 feet west from the airport's reference point. Comments should be submitted in writing by Feb. 21 to the Chief, Air Traffic Branch, Federal Aviation Administration, 831 Mitten Road, Burlingame, Calif. 94010.

Letters should refer to aeronautical study number SFO-OE-68-178.

Deep Snow Troubles Imperil Squaw World Cup Course

OLYMPIC VALLEY – With Squaw Valley World Cup Races starting on Feb. 27, an army of snow vehicles, skiers and bootpackers will be pressed into service to pack the Slalom and Downhill courses as soon as the snow stops falling.

Recent record California storms have dumped more than 25 feet of new snow on the upper levels of Squaw Peak and KT–22 — the mountains on which the races are to be held.

Snow continues to fall as an average rate of two feet a day.

More than 125 racers from eight countries will compete at Squaw Valley in the World Cup Race series, which will be televised nationally on ABC on Saturday, March 1.

The first race – the Men's Downhill, the only World Cup downhill in North America this year – will be run on Thursday, Feb. 27 on the same downhill course as used in the 1960 Squaw Valley Olympic Winter Games, starting on Squaw Peak above Siberia Bowl.

The Ladies' Downhill, to be run on Friday, Feb. 28, will start from the cornice of the East Face of KT–22, the same course as the 1960 Ladies' Olympic Downhill.

Dick Dorworth, a holder of the former World's ski speed record of 106 m.p.h., will be Chief–of–Course for the Squaw Valley World Cup Races.

He says that "course preparation has been made extremely difficult by the recent constant heavy snowfalls — but we have every confidence that courses will be in shape in time."

Karl Schranz of Austria is currently leading in World Cup points based on his showings in the races of the World Cup Series now being held in Europe.

Austria is ahead in over–all World Cup points to date, followed by France and the U. S. The U. S. girls' team has done a particularly outstanding job so far this season.

The Squaw Valley International World Cup Races will climax Saturday, March 1, with the Men's and Ladies' Slalom to be held on KT–22.

Gatekeepers and course policemen are urgently needed for for the World Cup Races. Volunteers will receive a ski lift pass good for another day at Squaw. Interested parties should contact: Kit Krieger, Squaw Valley Sports Director, 916–583–4211, ext. 138.

Chappie Asks Support OF Water Plan

SACRAMENTO Assemblyman Gene Chappie R–El Dorado County, has recommended that the Assembly Water Committee go on record in favor of the initial phase of the Consumnes River Division of the Central Valley Project.

"I recommend the development of the land and water resources of the Consumnes River Division area to create new economic opportunities, enhance the productivity of the area, and realize multiple–purpose benefits on the local, state and national levels," Chappie said.

"Local water resources can be utilized for these purposes only if storage reservoirs are provided to regulate winter and spring runoff to provide firm annual water supplies. Existing facilities are inadequate to meet increasing needs for water for irrigation, municipal and industrial use, fish and wildlife enhancement, recreation, and protection from damaging floods," he stated.

"The Consumnes River joins the Mokelumne River and discharges into the Sacramento–San Joaquin Delta about halfway between Sacramento and Stockton. The watershed drains parts of Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, and San Joaquin counties. The plan of development for the initial phase involves construction of three dams and reservoirs – Nashville on the Consumnes River, Aukum on the South Fork, and Pi–Pi on the Middle Fork," Chappie said.

"The cost of construction of the storage and conveyance features of the division is estimated at 1967 price levels at $139,295,000. The lands and facilities for recreation and fish and wildlife are estimated to cost $25,631,000. Necessary irrigation distribution and drainage systems are estimated at $9,257,000. Total construction cost estimate is $174,183,–000. Annual operation, maintenance, replacement, and energy costs total an estimated $2,663,850," he reported.

Chappie's recommendations will in turn be forwarded to the California State Resources Agency.

Salary Gain Noted For California Teachers

BURLINGAME – California teachers recorded a 6.39 per cent average gain in salaries this school year, for a new average annual wage of $9,720 – up $584 from last year.

These figures are a few of many reported in Research Bulletin No. 230 on "Teachers Salaries and Salary Schedules, 1968–69," just released by the Research Department of the California Teachers Association (CTA).

The 530–page bulletin, prepared in cooperation with the California Association of School Administrators (CASA) and the California School Boards Association (CSBA), is now being distributed to all school districts and local CTA chapters. It covers 98.9 per cent of all persons engaged in teaching more than half time in grades kindergarten through the 14th.

According to the bulletin, this year's 6.39 per cent salary gain is the second largest percentage gain since 1960. Only the 6.5 per cent gain of the 1967–68 school year was larger.

Among other statistics in the report are:

– High school teachers received a 6.22 per cent gain to an average of $10,109 annually.

– Junior college teachers received an 8.07 per cent gain, to an average of $12,329 annually.

– Elementary teachers were increased 6.32 per cent to an average of $9,213 annually.

California Ranks 3rd In Timber Production

BERKELEY—The timber industry in California is big business across the state. Los Angeles county, for instance, is second only to Humboldt in timber industry employment.

California, not often regarded as a big lumber state, supplies one sixth of the nation's lumber, and ranks just below Oregon and Washington the top two states in timber cutting.

Although the forecast for lumber and timber industry activities in the coming decade indicates some decline in overall volume, the industry will continue to be a vital factor in the state's economy, according to a study conducted by John A. Zivnuska, dean of the Berkeley campus School of Forestry and Conservation, for the State Office of Planning.

Skiing Takes Acrobatics, Gymnastics

Skiing on slopes virtually unskied before; the beauty of clean, white, wintry snow; mountains with peaks that seem to stretch up into the clouds, a set designed by nature herself – all are part of "The Killy Style."

In the series of skiing adventures broadcast Sundays in color on the CBS Television Network, Jean–Claude Killy, the world's greatest ski racer, not only challenges some of the earth's most difficult slopes but also offers instruction on the sport for every type of skier. In addition, he provides information on the selection of equipment and the latest in ski fashions.

How did this Frenchman prepare himself for his great feat of winning three gold medals in the 1968 Winter Olympics?

While other children were learning to walk, Killy was learning to walk too, but on skis. At an age when other youngsters were frolicking in the snow, Jean–Claude was perfecting the skiing technique for which he is famous today.

Growing up on skis–on slopes which are a large part of his life with an overwhelming desire to set a goal and reach it in a blaze of glory Killy achieved gymnastic, acrobatic skiing ability that far surpasses the prowess of any other skier in the world.

With a brink–of–disaster style that won him two World Cups and three Olympic medals, Killy can drive for a "gate" in the giant slalom at 50 miles an hour, sit back and accelerate by thrusting his feet forward on the skis and at times reach speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour.

For the novice or professional, the CBS Television Network's broadcasts of "The Killy style" provide a look at skiing at its best as well as some of the most spectacular scenic beauty nature can provide.

GOOD WILL AMBASSADORS – Vienna Choir Boys, Austria's diminutive and talented envoys who range from 8 to 14 years of age, will appear in concert Feb. 17, 8 p.m., at the Reno Pioneer Theater Auditorium. Youngsters, who are making their second appearance in this area, divide their time between 12 hours of sleep, rehearsals, performances and sightseeing. They are being sponsored here by the Reno Women's Council, National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Freight Train Bogged By Sierra Snow Slide

A snowslide near Crystal Lake, 13 miles west of here, bogged down a 99 car Southern Pacific freight train and stopped westbound traffic for about six hours Thursday.

The westbound train was enroute from Sparks to Roseville, an SP spokesman said today. It was passing through a snow shed when snow piled against 16 cars extending from the shed's east end. A few minutes later, snow struck five or six cars emerging from the west end.

No injuries resulted. The mile-long train was carrying various types of freight. No cars were derailed and no serious damage resulted.

The slide hit about 8:55 a.m. Shortly after, the eastbound track was cleared. About 3:30 p.m. the westbound train and its tracks were cleared to traffic.

The spokesman said cause of the snow slide is unknown. He said snow slides are not uncommon in that area, although a slide striking a train is out of the ordinary.

Snow depth at Donner Summit is about 13 feet.

Earns Award

RENO – A University of Nevada journalism major has been selected as one of 82 future journalists across the nation to receive a $500 scholarship.

The scholarship, to be awarded after a summer's work as a beginning reporter, will be presented to William G. Kroger of Reno.

Sponsored by The Newspaper Fund, the scholarship is awarded to students who have expressed an interest in newspaper work as a career and who have worked for their college newspapers.

MAKE WAY FOR THE GALS! – Mardi Gras king candidate Ted Gelber jumps down from his "jeepney" wihich Friday transported guests to a gala "Royal Afternoon" at the Reno home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walton. Shown with Gelber are Mrs. Donald Rae and Mrs. Donn Wheeler. The gala wine tasting–fashion show was given to raise votes for Gelber, proceeds from which go to guild project for St. Mary's Hospital. Some 125 guests attended the party which also included a display of the crown worn by Richard Burton on television and pictures and an African safari film. Next event for Gelber will be a Mardi Gras Sweeper Bowling Tournament Feb. 16 under the direction of Mrs. Donn Wheeler and Mrs. Donald Rae.

League Representative Urges Agency Creation

SAN FRANCISCO – Alfred Hodder, representing the league to Save Lake Tahoe, has strongly urged immediate passage of a bill to create a Nevada Interim Tahoe Planning Agency.

Appearing before a committee of the Nevada Legislature last week, Hodder said the proposed agency would have authority to control planning, land use and water pollution on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe.

The action would be taken pending consent of the U.S. Congress to a permanent California–Nevada bi–state agency recently approved by the California and Nevada Legislatures.

The interim agency was proposed by Nevada Gov. Paul Laxalt, and an appropriate bill introduced in the Nevada Legislature by Sen. Coe Swobe of Reno and Assemblyman Lawrence Jacobsen of Minden.

Hodder stressed the critical importance of the interim agency in order for Nevada to get an early start on planning and water pollution controls prior to creation of the permanent agency.

FROM HORSE POWER TO DOG POWER – An unidentified motorist forsakes his automobile and takes to dog sledding to get about Tahoe City during recent snow storms that have been recurring regularly in the North Lake Tahoe area. Scene was captured by the camera eye of Judi Gentry of Olympic Valley.

Mardi Gras Party Slated Next Week

Numerous North Lake Tahoe residents are planning to attend the annual Mardi Gras Ball in Reno Feb. 18. It will be held in the Circus Room of the Sparks Nugget.

No–host cocktails are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7 o'clock. Entertainment will follow dinner with the king pageant and the crowning of the king and his queen escort as the climax of the evening. Dancing to the music of Jan Savage and her orchestra will be held in the Circus Room following the program.

There are nine king candidates: Ted Gelber, Robert Rose, Robert G. Berry, A.D. Smith Jr., Dean Phillips, Norman Volland, Pete Carothers, Dr. Joe Plater, and Bill Morris. The king will be elected by "votes" purchased at 10 cents each as part of the benefit fund raising.

Chairman of the ball is Peter M. Smith Jr. with Mrs. Dean Streeper as cochairman. Also working on the event are Mrs. Floyd Bartlett, Mrs. Stan Skaza, Mrs. Don Avansino, Mrs. Leo P. Bergin III, Mrs. Don Wilkerson, Mrs. Hughes Porter and Mrs. Robert Schouweiler.

Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Stan Skaza, phone 329–9806.

CROSS RIB BEEF ROAST

CORN FED BEEF 89¢ Lb.

Raley's rolled cross-ribs are a work of art! We make them from the most desirable portion of the beef cross rib. This tender, fine-grained meat makes the best rolled beef roasts. The beef is trimmed free of fat and sinew, then we carefully roll it and tie it up snug. You'll never find any gristle or waste hidden inside a cross rib roast from Raley's. It's all lean, tender, eatable beef. A magnificent roast. An excellent value at this special price. Raley's USDA Prime Iowa beef is the very highest quality you can buy. It has more tenderness because it's aged longer. More flavor because it's corn fed. Try it this week.

SIXTH ANNUAL PROGRESS EDITION

TAHOE '69

This year's edition, while taking a look ahead to the tremendous future that is in store for all segments of this famous area, will also highlight the attainments of recent months. Special emphasis is placed on the people of the two-state, six-county Lake Tahoe Basin, including the Truckee-Donner communities — how they live, work and play. Through numerous photographs it will be a tour of life, industry and the new developments in what we believe is one of America's most beautiful, fastest growing year-around recreation areas.
